

Seminar: Expatriate Tax Planning. How to communicate with Tax Department?

April 29 at 17:00 Reval Hotel Olümpia

‘Tax complexity itself is a kind of tax’ - Max Baucus

To understand tax complexity, communication with the tax department and procedure of the proper tax planning, we are inviting to join our seminar on April 29 at 17:00.

Our guest speakers are Aule Kindsigo (Tax and Customs Department Manager) and Annika Träss (Lawyer in Gencs Valters Law Firm, head of Estonian Office)

NB! Dear Participants the seminar will be held in Estonian Language

Participation fee for SECC Members is free of charge, for Non-Members 100 EEK.

Issues to be discussed...

- 1 Certain rules of Tax Payments
- 2 Interaction with Tax Authorities through E-Tax Board
- 3 Binding Preliminary Options
- 4 Double Residency Income Tax
- 5 Value added tax, its pros and cons

Aule Kindsigo has graduated from Tartu University in 1992 (as a credit specialist profile). She has been working in the regional and central tax authority. Her current position is the Tax and Customs Department Manager. Additionally, she has been teaching in Tallinn School of Economics, Tallinn Technical University and in Estonian Business School. She has been taken part in double taxation agreement negotiations.

If you are interested to participate, please register info@secc.ee or 64 65 234